College Classes Especially for Adults Winter Speaker Luncheon

CRI is pleased to present our Winter Luncheon/Lecture, Wednesday, December 14, 2016, on the second floor of Woodway Hall on the main campus of Edmonds Community College. The event is sponsored by the Dr. Maybelle Chapman Speakers Series. Join Brad Hanson for his presentation, "The Secret Travels of Killer Whales." Brad Hanson joined the Northwest Fisheries Science Center in April of 2003. Previously, Brad worked as a Wildlife Biologist at the National Marine Mammal Laboratory in Seattle, WA. Brad received a Ph.D. from the University of Washington where he worked on the development of improved tag attachment systems for small cetaceans. He also holds an M.S. in Fisheries from the University of Washington and a B.A. in Zoology also from the University of Washington.

Seating begins at 11:30am followed by lunch and the presentation. The luncheon will end at 2:00pm. Cost for the luncheon and speaker is $30 and available for purchase online starting Wednesday, Nov. 9th or at the CRI office (T-F 10am-2pm) in the Maltby Building, 7020 – 196th St. SW, Lynnwood, 98036, or by mail using a registration form. Register for the luncheon before December 7, 2016. No phone reservations.

Classes

American History 1B: Colonial Roots

Kristi Busch

C900	01/06/17 - 01/27/17
Fridays	1:00pm—2:30pm
MAB 109	$33

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

We will look at early meetings between the Native Americans and the Europeans: glory hunting Spanish, grand exploring French, practical Dutch, and the varied English colonies of Puritan and Cavalier. We will compare relationships and marvel over the daring development of those earliest of colonies while acknowledging the demise of the Indian cultures that this migration caused. Kristi Busch holds an MA in museum studies from George Washington University. She has been a storyteller in both performance and therapeutic settings. However, her main focus has been teaching courses in history, civics, philosophy and mythology for 16 to 86 years old. Kristy feels that nothing compares to making history come alive. 4 sessions

The Canterbury Tales Part IV

Sean Taylor

C912	01/05/17 - 01/26/17
Thursdays	1:00pm – 3:00pm
MAB 109	$44

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

We will read the fourth in a series of Geoffrey Chaucer's The Canterbury Tales of a motley group of fourteenth-century pilgrims riding to Canterbury. We pay attention to Chaucer's main concerns: the slippery nature of language, especially when the speaker has an ulterior motive, and the possibility of redemption in an age riven by commercialization. This is the fourth course in a series of five to be completed in Spring of 2017. It is not necessary to have taken the previous courses. Our reading text will be the Penguin Classics edition of The Canterbury Tales, translated by Neville Coghill, available online and in book stores. Students should read "The Shipman's Tale" for the first meeting. Sean Taylor holds a PhD in English from the UW, and has taught as a professor at Portland State University and Hamilton College. His main areas of expertise are Old and Middle English literature. 4 sessions.

City Hall: From the Inside Out

Loren Simmonds

C870	01/03/17 - 01/17/17
Tuesdays	1:00pm – 3:00pm
FBC	$33

All class sessions are at Fairwinds Brighton Court Activity Room. Covered drop off area at FBC. No parking in FBC lot. Park at Monroe Hall, Gateway Hall, or Lynnwood Ice Center. 1-2 block walk from parking. Use your CRI parking pass on driver side dashboard. Pick up from CRI office or class assistant.

Wonder what's really going on at city hall? Now you can get an insider's perspective on different types of municipal government, realities of citizen complaints, public and private sector differences, open meetings and day-today administration of a city. You will gain a better understanding of issues that are challenging and divisive for elected officials and for citizens. What are issues that local municipalities currently face? What impact will they have on the future of your community?

Too hot or too cold?

One never knows! The heating in our classrooms is programmed at a central location. CRI has no control over it. So please dress in layers and be prepared.

Take this opportunity to ask an insider about municipal issues that perplex or concern you. Loren Simmonds served on the Lynnwood City Council for 16 years, eight years as council president. He initiated Lynnwood U and founded Lynnwood P&R Foundation. He has MA and MDIV degrees and Advanced Leadership Certificate from the Association of Washington Cities. He has been a professional advisor to non-profit organizations and is currently a guest columnist for Lynnwood Todav.com. 3 sessions.

Contemporary Issues in European Politics

Travis Nelson

C872 0	02/15/17 - 03/08/17
Wednesdays	3:00pm - 5:00pm
GWY 352	$33

All class sessions at Gateway Building Room 352.

Beginning with a brief overview of the European Union, we will explore three distinct events in contemporary European politics. Our focus will be on Britain's vote to leave the EU (BREXIT), the Syrian refugee crisis and the failed coup in Turkey. We will look at all three events from a historical and theoretical perspective and then discuss their potential ramifications for European politics. Travis Nelson is a PhD student in the political science department at the University of Washington. His research

Digital Legacies: Handling an Online Life Left Behind

Brian Boston

C850	01/24/17
Tuesday	10:00am - 12:00pm
MAB 109	$11

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

Just as you acquire real objects and personal connections over your lifetime, you collect digital items and virtual connections online. While some of these digital legacies are stored with local control, more of these items are established and stored online. What happens to these items when you or a loved one dies? Whether they are photos, credit card rewards, frequent flier miles, social media, online payment services or email postings, few "intangible" assets are protected by state law. Thus, they are inconsistently handled by service provider contracts. Learn what you can do in estate planning to protect digital assets and insure that you and your loved one's wishes are followed. Most of Brian Boston's time in the last 38 years has been spent helping people with technology. Though he has trained hundreds of support engineers at Microsoft and elsewhere, his preference is working with end users. 1 session.

Who We Are and What We Do

The Creative Retirement Institute (CRI) of Edmonds Community College is a member-driven, self-supporting organization whose mission is to provide affordable, quality lifelonglearning opportunities for adults in a supportive environment.

Energy 2017: Issues and Challenges

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

Recent years have led to a significant change in the US and world energy picture. Several factors impact the energy industry: hydraulic fracturing ("Fracking"); reducing our reliance on coal; transporting natural gas and petroleum from remote sources; contending with possible effects associated with processes used to recover hydrocarbons; the larger available amounts of petroleum causing a dramatic drop in the price of crude oil; and issues of global warming. We will discuss alternatives available to the world to achieve vibrant economic conditions, social stability, a political understanding and an integrated plan for economic vitality and stability throughout the world. Bernard Silbernagel, a retired senior scientist from ExxonMobil's Corporate Research Laboratories, received a BS, Yale University, and PhD, UC San Diego. He was a physics professor at UC Santa Barbara prior to his career in industrial research and is a Fellow of the American Physical Society. 3 sessions.

The Evolution of Landscape Painting

Rebecca Albiani

C902 02/08/17 - 02/22/17 Wednesdays 10:00am - 12:00pm GWY 352 $39

All class sessions at Gateway Building Room 352.

To complement Seattle Art Museum's winter exhibition Seeing Nature: Landscape Masterworks from the Paul G. Allen Family Collection, we will explore development of landscape painting, a minor art form in the ancient world, and its progression from tentative beginnings in late Renaissance to flourishing as an independent genre in the Holland of Rembrandt's day, to the Romantic landscapes of Turner and Friedrich. The wilderness inspired American painters to create a distinct artistic movement, and landscape painting became central to the development of Impressionism in France. We will examine the place of landscape in modern, even abstract art, including the work of Cezanne, Klimt, Georgia O'Keeffe and Ansel Adams. Rebecca Albiani has a BA in art history and MA in Renaissance art history. She is a popular lecturer at the Frye Art Museum. 3 sessions.

Fact & Fiction Winter 2017

Bev Christensen & Marge Young

C914	02/17/17 - 03/10/17
Fridays	9:30am - 11:30am
FBC	$10

All class sessions are at Fairwinds Brighton Court Private Dining Room. Covered drop off area at FBC. No parking in FBC lot. Park at Monroe Hall, Gateway Hall, or Lynnwood Ice Center. 1-2 block walk from parking. Use your CRI parking pass on driver side dashboard. Pick up from CRI office or class assistant.

We are not your average book discussion group! Participants make their own reading choices and come prepared to present brief reviews and share their appraisals. You may select a past or current author in any genre. Learn from each other through informal discussion. This is a low -fee class, but requires registration. Marge Young and Bev Christensen are avid readers and have been a part of this class for years. 4 sessions.

Geology of National Parks II

Donn Charnley

C956 01/09/17 - 02/06/17 Mondays 10:00am - 12:00pm MAB 109 $44

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

Yellowstone Park was created by Congress on March 1, 1872. On August 25, 1916 President Wilson signed the National Park Service Act. Now there are 59 Parks and 117 National Monuments listed on the Park web site, plus over 400 other places, such as National Seashores, designated as being worthy of protection and preservation because of spectacular geologic features they contain. Areas listed display complex plutonic and/or volcanic igneous activity and related metamorphic features. National Parks: Acadia, Black Canyon of the Gunnison, Crater Lake, Grand Canyon, Grand Teton, North Cascades, Great Smoky Mountains, Glacier, Hawaii Volcanoes, Mount Lassen, Mount Rushmore, Yellowstone, Yosemite. National Monuments: Capulin Volcano, Craters of the Moon, Devils Postpile, Lava Beds, Lava Butte, Newberry Crater, Sunset Crater, Fort Rock Natural Area. Donn Charnley, professor emeritus of geology at Shoreline CC, holds an MS degree in geology at the UW. He has taught for CRI since 2003. 4 sessions. No class on January 16th.

Insider's View of the Superior Court System

John Rutter

C876	02/02/17 - 02/09/17
Thursdays	2:00pm – 4:00 pm
MAB 109	$22

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

John Rutter's history and experience preceding his appointment to the bench, initial impressions, "learning the ropes," and a review of the place and role of courts in our constitutional framework. We will pose a series of "bar exam" fact patterns from real life and ask, "What decision would you make?" What actually was decided, and discuss issues around the integrity of the courts in Washington. Will campaign money buy judges? Where are we now? If time allows, legal perspective on "Death with Dignity" and beyond. This is a repeat of a class given Winter 2016. John Rutter holds a BA in American Government and International Relations from Harvard College and a JD from UW Law School. He practiced law in South County for 16 years, was appointed to the Superior Court by Governor Dan Evans in 1974. He ran unopposed to reelection and served for 16

Jafar Siddiqui

C944	03/01/17 - 03/08/17
Wednesdays	s 10:00am – 12:00pm
GWY 352	$22

All class sessions at Gateway Building Room 352.

Islam offers spiritual direction to millions across the globe. We will have an opportunity to discuss what scholars and practitioners see as its political and cultural aspects in today's world and explore major questions and issues that will profoundly affect global politics with regard to Islam as it is practiced in the 21st century. The Future of Islam by John Esposito is the book used for reference. Jeff Siddiqui was born in Pakistan where he earned his BS in mechanical engineering. He came to the US in 1974 and earned his MA in industrial engineering. He worked as an industrial engineer in the UK, and received the Queen's Commendation Certificate for his energy saving project. He has written about and spoken on subjects that include civil rights, Islam, US foreign policy, Muslims in America and current events. He is a civil rights activist and was among the first Moslem Electors in US history in 2008. 2 sessions.

The Korean War: The Forgotten War

Laurence Kerr

C904	01/24/17 - 02/14/17
Tuesdays	1:00pm – 3:00pm
MAB 109	$44

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

Session One: International politics at end of World War II, America's new role in the world, beginning of the Cold War, Russia and the United States in a distant place, a brief history of Korea, and the North attacks. The Many Worlds of Barbara Kingsolver

Wayne McGuire

C916	01/19/17 - 02/09/17
Thursdays	10:00am - 12:00pm
MAB 109	$44

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

Barbara Kingsolver never abandons her love of the earth and what grows in it. As a celebrated storvteller, she makes her diverse characters encounter unfamiliar cultures, relationships, religions, races, political and corporate policies and geography. In the process, the characters often discover (or rediscover) their true selves. The same can be said for many readers. We will read The Bean Trees, Animal Dreams, The Poisonwood Bible and Flight Behavior. Students are requested to read The Bean Trees before the first class meeting. Wayne McGuire received a BA in English from U of Denver and an MA in English from U of Oregon. His areas of concentration are English Romantic Movement and History of the English Language. 4 sessions.

Mentors and Protégés: The Art of Classical Music

Steve Reeder

C922	02/16/17 - 03/09/17
Thursdays	3:30pm - 5:30pm
MAB 109	$49

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

As in every field, classical music has advanced through the education and inspiration of generation after generation of composerperformers. In this class we will focus on many famous pairings, including Corelli-Handel, Haydn-Beethoven, Mozart-Hummel, Brahms-Dvorak, and RimskyKorsakov-Stravinsky, in addition to the renowned Nadia Boulanger, who nurtured the talents of many of the leading composers of the twentieth century. We will even consider the direct line from Franz Liszt to Victor Borge, by way of Scotland! Steve Reeder has spent his entire career in broadcasting, teaching and public speaking. After many years at KING-FM, he now programs and hosts a daily classical music show for Northwest Public Radio (M-F, 9am-1pm). He also serves as a pre-concert speaker for the Seattle Symphony, Bellevue Youth Symphony, Orcas Island Chamber Music Festival. and as program annotator for the Seattle Metropolitan Chamber Orchestra. 4 sessions.

Mondays	1:00pm – 3:30pm
MAB 109	$49

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

The history, politics and culture of the Middle East is complex, and often can be misinterpreted when viewed from an American or foreign perspective. This class will look at four specific Middle Eastern stories told through documentary films. Each of these films will provide ample points of discussion as we tackle the tough issues associated with those nations. Zaki Barak Hamid is an Arab immigrant from Jordan. He received his BA in theater from the University at Albany, and a MFA in acting from the University of Delaware. He is a program director at Humanities Washington, where he produces hundreds of Humanities themed lectures and discussion programs throughout the

Midway Atoll: 2.4 Square Miles that Changed History

Chris Szarek

C878 0	1/18/17 - 01/25/17
Wednesdays	1:00pm - 3:00pm
GWY 352	- $22

All class sessions at Gateway Building Room 352.

Midway Atoll, an island in the South Pacific about half the size of Mountlake Terrace, has had an outsized impact on the history of our country. On the 75th anniversary year of the battle that changed the momentum of the struggle for the South Pacific, come and find out about Midway's past: its role in times of war and peace, the countries and people who made their stand there, and what role it plays today. Chris Szarek served in the US Navy for 20 years as a Seabee, retiring in 2009. After retirement. Chris earned a BA in communications and an MBA in Administration from the UW. He currently serves as the Veterans Resource Center Director at Edmonds Community College. Chris has taught several courses for CRI including Veterans' Issues, Hollywood and the Homefront, and Pearl Harbor to the Mighty Mo. 2 sessions.

The New Utility: Trends in Energy Generation, Storage and Management

Gary Shaver

C880 01/04/17 - 01/25/17 Wednesdays 10:00am - 12:00pm GWY 352 $44

All class sessions at Gateway Building Room 352.

Everything you thought you understood about utilities is changing. There are accelerating and affordable advances in clean energy, home energy storage systems, and energy management software. Companies like Apple and Google are becoming major players in the electric utility sector. We will explore the latest trends in clean energy generation, storage and management, and what this means to utility companies and to you as a consumer. Whether you are downsizing, going green, hoping to save money, interested in investing, or just interested in the future of utilities, this class will help you take charge of your energy future. Gary Shaver has over 15 years of experience in energy policy, business and manufacturing. He provides consulting and advising services in renewable and clean energy technologies, product development, legislation and analvsis, and other customer-specific services. 4 sessions.

Our Milky Way Galaxy

Linda Khandro

C958 02/13/17 - 03/13/17 Mondays 1:00pm - 3:00pm MAB 109 $44

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

From our location within its diskshaped structure our Milky Way galactic home appears from earth as a band of spilled milk across the sky. However, from the 1600s (Galileo) to today, we see that our galaxy is one of many in the universe. We start with our early discoveries of the galaxy then travel through its structure to study the central bulge; the starforming spiral arms with their nebulae and open clusters; and the outer halo of globular clusters. Finally, we see our Milky Way as one of a small number of galaxies bound in a complex gravitational dance! Linda Khandro holds an MA degree in earth/space sciences. She has taught earth and space sciences for over 25 years, led education/ public outreach activities at UW, and engages in school and public outreach. Linda has taught several well-received courses for CRI. 4 sessions. No class February 20th.

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

We have just been through a bruising election year. Distrust, dissatisfaction and disaffection were writ large-mostly in slogans, slurs and sound bites. Now it is important to take stock and to take action. The first step is to look more calmly at our social problems and our resources for addressing them. The principal text for this course is The Unwinding; An Inner History of the New America, George Packer, 2013 which presents history via a number of life-stories and vignettes of Americans in various regions of the country and strata of the economy. Please borrow or buy this book. Ellen Berg is a sociologist who has taught undergraduates and adults about social problems and political challenges since 1986. She often uses stories, essays, or bios and sometimes 'big picture' books about America like this one. 4 sessions. No class February 20th.

The Power of Marketing and Branding

Shelby Barnes

C884 02/16/17-03/09/17 Thursdays 10:00am – 12:00pm MAB 109 $44

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

Why are we loyal to a particular product or cause? Are we even aware of how marketing and branding strategies influence our purchasing decisions? These deep connections aren't accidental. Companies and organizations identify our needs and connect us emotionally to their products or causes in ways that build loyalty and action. In this interactive, media-rich class, you will learn the basic history, principles and trends of marketing and branding, explore real-world examples, and "deconstruct" some famous brands in order to understand how they become part of our everyday lives. Shelby Barnes has been a communications and marketing advisor to business leaders. She provides services in business strategy and issues management; media relations; values-based branding; and social media marketing and content creation. Shelby has a BA in journalism, Oregon U and an MA in communication and digital media from UW, where she has been an instructor in the Communication Department. 4 sessions.

Shakespeare's Henry VI, Part 2

Sean Taylor

C918	02/03/17 - 02/24/17
Fridays	1:00pm – 3:00pm
MAB 109	- $44

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

We will read one of what was possibly the first play written by Shakespeare to be performed on the London stage, "The First Part of the Contention betwixt the Two Famous Houses of York and Lancaster," known as Henry VI. Part 2. Discussion will treat Shakespeare's appropriation of heroic history made popular by Christopher Marlowe. An adaptation of all three Henry VI plays will be staged by Seattle Shakespeare Company concurrently with the course, so that reading may be informed by both the text and the live performance. Cost of the performance is separate from class fee and must be purchased independently by student. Read through Act 2 for the first meeting. Any edition of the play will do, but recommended with annotations and line numbers. Sean Taylor holds a PhD in English from the UW, and has taught as a professor at Portland State University and Hamilton College. His main areas of expertise are Old and Middle English literature. 4 sessions.

Southeast Asia Since the Fall of Saigon

Bill Spruce

C886 01/05/17 - 01/12/17Thursdays 10:00am - 12:00pm MAB 109 $22

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

Forty-one years after the fall of Saigon where have the dominos gone? Communist expansion stopped. Instead, they have mixed democracy and partial capitalism. Southeast Asia nations resent overbearing neighbor China, but we see hope in Myanmar (Burma), success in Singapore, world commodity price rollercoaster impact on Malaysia and Indonesia, reform in Vietnam versus the old party elites. Khmer Rouge in Cambodia? Confusion in Thailand. Americans are basically welcome again in SE Asia. The Association of Southeast Asian Nations (ASEAN), is their regional customs union. Bill Spruce served 28 years in the US Foreign Service, including assignments and official travel in Southeast Asia. He holds a BA from U of Texas Austin and MA in economics from American U. He taught international business at U of Texas San Antonio for 20 years before moving to the Seattle area. 2 sessions.

Swedish Crime Novels by Women Authors

Jim Thyden

C920	01/06/17 - 01/27/17
Fridays	10:00am - 12:00pm
MAB 109	$ 4 4

All class sessions are at Maltby Building Room 109.

Several of the best and most popular Swedish crime writers are women, and this course presents the work of four of them. After reading and discussing the books, we will focus on Swedish society, history, culture, politics and nature rather than literary analysis. In order, we will read: The Ice Princess by Camilla Lackberg, Unseen by Mari Jungstedt, Strange Bird by Anna Jansson (translated by one -time CRI instructor Paul Norlen), and Blackwater by Kerstin Ekman. Jim Thyden had extensive experience in the Nordic world as a US Foreign Service officer. He earned his MA degree in the UW Scandinavian Department. He has taught and lectured at the UW Jackson School and the Foreign Service Institute and has taught many courses, including Scandinavian crime novels, for CRI. 4 sessions.

Trade Policy and Agreements

Lewis Mand	ell & Jeff Johnson
C888	01/11/17
Wednesday	1:00 pm – 3:30pm
GWY 352	- $11

All class sessions at Gateway Building Room 352.

Economist Lewis Mandell and labor leader Jeff Johnson will explore what makes a good trade agreement and who will be the "winners" and "losers." You will gain new perspectives on trade policy and be better prepared to evaluate agreements such as the Trans-Pacific Partnership. Lewis Mandell is a financial economist with extensive background in academia, government and business. He has taught at a number of major universities, most recently the UW, and is the author of 22 books. Jeff Johnson was elected President of the Washington State Labor Council, AFL-CIO, in 2010. Jeff has a BA in political science from Georgetown U and his MA and ABD in political economy, New School for Social Research. 1 session.

Turkey at a Crossroads

Resat Kasaba

C889	02/01/17
Wednesday	1:00 pm – 3:00pm
GWY 352	$11

All class sessions at Gateway Building Room 352.

A review and analysis of the recent problems Turkey is facing and a discussion of what it means for the future of the country, region, and US interests. Resat Kasaba is Stanley D. Golub Chair and Professor of International Studies and Director of the Henry M. Jackson School of International Studies at the UW. He has written on economic history, state-society relations, migration, ethnicity and nationalism, and urban history. Recently, he edited volume four of the Cambridge History of Modern Turkey and wrote A Moveable Empire: Ottoman Empire, Migrants, and Refugees. In 1999, Kasaba was the recipient of the University of Washington's Distinguished Teaching Award. 1 session.

Understanding ISIS

Charles Gaglio

C950	02/21/17 - 03/14/17
Tuesdays	1:00 pm – 3:00pm
FBC	- $44

All class sessions are at Fairwinds Brighton Court Activity Room. Covered drop off area at FBC. No parking in FBC lot. Park at Monroe Hall, Gateway Hall, or Lynnwood Ice Center. 1-2 block walk from parking. Use your CRI parking pass on driver side dashboard. Pick up from CRI office or class assistant.

We will analyze recent history and track current events in an attempt to fully understand the Islamic State and the events of the Middle East since the Iraq War. What is the Islamic State and what does its existence mean for the future of the region? Are the "old" borders of Iraq, Syria and Kurdistan replaceable now that they have been replaced by ISIS? Can the Middle East have functioning modern nation-states? What role does/should the West have? Charles Gaglio holds a BA in history, Ithaca College New York. He previously taught courses for CRI: Creation of the Modern Middle East and The Failed Peace. 4 sessions.

Your Healthy Brain

Linda Whitesell

 $\begin{array}{ccc} C890 & 02/07/17 - 02/14/17 \\ Tuesdays & 10:00am - 12:00pm \\ ESC & $22 \end{array}$

All class sessions at Edmonds Senior Center 2nd Floor Ballroom.

Explore what it means to have a healthy brain, how the brain ages and the normal and abnormal changes that occur; then examine ways to enhance brain function and review the latest research to maintain a healthy brain. Linda Whitesell has been a nurse and geriatric nurse practitioner for almost five decades, concentrating her work in the field of aging. She also has a degree in education, taught classes on aging in multiple community college and community settings. Now retired, she serves on various boards, volunteers for Senior Services of Snohomish County, hospice, and is on the Snohomish County Council on Aging. Linda believes learning should be relevant, interesting and fun! 2 sessions.
